Makes you put your life's experiences into perspective!

By george

I had the fortune of meeting Andreas in person in Athens during his book launch in Greece. I received his book during my visit, read it within days and then ordered 6 copies to give to my friends and family over the Christmas break (including my father who loved it!). Needless to say, I LOVED IT! But why? I loved it because this was a story of someone who left his motherland to go to a nation that allowed him to be who he really was. As a result of being in this new environment, he was able to become, grow, achieve and succeed. It is such a great success story that we can all aspire to replicate in some form in our own lives. Having read Andreas' book and having met him in person, it is easy to say that his energy and passion for life in electric.

Bravo... I can't wait to read the next installment to his saga!
